"Hydration is key to peak performance,
yet many athletes overlook its importance."

BiboLink is an innovative hydration solution designed for athletes and active individuals. Installed in public outdoor spaces like parks and sports areas, it offers more than just clean, filtered water. BiboLink allows users to customize their drink with up to five optional supplements to match their personal health and fitness goals. It's a smarter, more sustainable way to stay hydrated on the go.

for staff

BiboLink runs on refillable cartridges and a replaceable filter system. The app provides alerts and usage data for smooth, low-effort maintenance.

for users

Create your profile in the app, scan your bottle, and get a personalized hydration mix – anytime, anywhere. Fast, easy, and tailored to your goals.

Components

Supplements

All supplements are stored inside the refillable tubes. After users select their preferences in the app, the system automatically dispenses the right mix into the filtered water.

- BCAA
Helps with muscle recovery and reduces fatigue after intense exercise.
- Zinc
Supports the immune system and contributes to faster recovery.
- Caffeine
Boosts focus and endurance, perfect before a workout or competition.
- Electrolytes
Replenish what's lost through sweat to maintain hydration and avoid cramps.
- Magnesium
Reduces muscle soreness and supports energy metabolism.

Application

Through the app, users can create a profile, select their preferred supplements and receive smart recommendations.
