

“Hydration is key to peak performance,
yet many athletes overlook its importance.”

BiboLink is an innovative hydration solution designed for athletes and active individuals. Installed in public outdoor spaces, it offers more than just clean, filtered water. With up to five optional supplements, BiboLink offers personalized hydration based on each user's unique needs. It's a smart, sustainable way to stay hydrated on the go.

for staff

BiboLink runs on refillable supplement tubes and a replaceable filter system. The app provides alerts and usage data for smooth, low-effort maintenance.

for users

Create your profile in the app, scan your bottle, and get a personalized hydration mix – anytime, anywhere. Fast, easy, and tailored to your goals.

Components

Supplements

All supplements are stored inside the supplement tubes. Users select their preferences in the app and the system automatically dispenses the right mix into the filtered water.

- BCAA
Helps with muscle recovery and reduces fatigue after intense exercise.
- Zinc
Supports the immune system and contributes to faster recovery.
- Caffeine
Boosts focus and endurance, perfect before a workout or competition.
- Electrolytes
Replenish what's lost through sweat to maintain hydration and avoid cramps.
- Magnesium
Reduces muscle soreness and supports energy metabolism.

Application

Through the app, users can create a profile, select their supplements and receive smart recommendations.

Monitor your intake with the bibolink application.
