

Personalize every refill!

Consider your performance, goals, and health needs. Bibolink's mobile application seamlessly connects you with the hydration stations, tracking hydration, suggesting supplements, and syncing with wearables.

Hydration is key to peak performance

Bibolink is an innovative hydration station designed to provide customized, supplement-enriched water tailored to individual athletic needs and engineered for active and outdoor environments.

BiboLink is equipped with a high-pressure water pump, carbon filtration system, and solar power integration. Infrared sensors and a modular supplement system ensure hygiene, efficiency, and personalized dosing in any outdoor sports setting.
